With the increasing importance of Outbound and Inbound potential in the East and Southeast Asia, it serves as a strategically important gateway for the industry. That is the reason it is a full-house show every year since last 27 years - a legacy that we are proud of,” remarked Sanjiv Agarwal, Chairman and CEO of the organisers Fairfest Media Ltd.

Goutam Deb, Minister, Tourism Department of the host state Government of West Bengal said: “Government of West Bengal welcome all participants in TTF-India’s leading and pioneering travel mart. I am happy to note that this initiative originated in Kolkata 27 years back. West Bengal Tourism has been closely associated with and participates in it in a big way in TTF Kolkata and at many locations over the years. With tourism being a priority sector for this Government, I am looking forward to TTF Kolkata, which I hope will have the presence of many national and international tourism stakeholders.
